Given that the Fund is intended to be a Shariah-compliant fund, it shall only invest in those securities which are certified / confirmed as Shariah-compliant by either the issuer of such securities or by a Shariah Supervisory Board of the Sponsor or other entity.

In line with the above, the Fund seeks to generate maximum returns with preservation of capital and daily liquidity as the main Objective. The Fund seeks to achieve this by investing in liquid, high-quality, Shariah-compliant securities issued by banks, governments, government entities, quasi-governments & other entities primarily in Oman and the GCC.

CHAPTER NINE

RISK FACTORS & MITIGATIONS

Prior to investing in any Units, interested Investors should carefully consider, together with all other information contained in this Prospectus, the matters and risks described below. The risks identified below are not exhaustive and other risks and considerations, including some which may either not be presently known to the Fund or currently deemed as not material, may impact any investment in the Units and the business, financial condition and/or operating results of the Fund.

An investment in the Units entails a significant degree of risk and, therefore, should be undertaken only by Investors capable of evaluating the risks of the investment and bearing the risks it represents.

There can be no assurance that an Investor will receive a return on its investment, and therefore, an Investor should only invest in the Fund and its Units if such Investor is able to withstand a total loss of its investment. Prospective Investors should ensure they understand the nature of the investment in the Fund and the potential extent of their exposure to risk, that they have sufficient knowledge, experience and access to professional advisers to make their own fully independent legal, tax, accounting and financial evaluation of the merits and risks of investment in the Fund and that they consider the suitability of such investment in the context of their own circumstances and financial condition.

Specific Risk Factors:

9.1 RISKS RELATING TO RETURNS

Money market instruments are affected by changes in interest rates (even in the context of Shariah-compliant instruments). When interest rates decline, the market value of these instruments generally can be expected to rise. Conversely, when interest rates rise, the market value of fixed-income securities generally can be expected to decline. The longer the duration or maturity of a fixed-income security, the more susceptible it is to interest-rate risk.

Mitigation: Investments are made in short maturity instruments thus the risk of price volatility is low. Also, the investment in instruments which have price volatility will be very low so that there is no price risk.

9.2 CONCENTRATION RISK

The investments made by the Fund may be concentrated in a single sector or country, since the main Objective of the Fund is to invest in money market instruments issued by various banks thus there will be large exposure to banking sector. While the endeavors to diversify the investment in various countries in the GCC the returns available in each country will determine the allocation to each country.

Mitigation: The Investment Manager will endeavor to diversify the investments.

9.3 CREDIT RISKS

Issuers of various money market securities may be unable to make the profit payments and/or repay the principal when due as a result of (included but not limited to) liquidation risk, damage risk, performance risk or any other related risk to the underlying assets.

Mitigation: The Investment Manager will endeavor to diversify the investments and invest in securities that have high credit rating

9.4 INCOME RISK

There is a risk that the Fund's income will decline because of falling rates of return or profit rates. A fund's income declines when return rates fall because the Fund then must invest in lower-yielding instruments. The rate of return may fluctuate and this risk is not of negative returns. Because the Fund's income is based on short-term profit gains, which can fluctuate significantly over short periods, income risk is expected to be there all the time. A low profitability or rate of return regime could impact the returns of the Fund and it would give low returns for a prolonged time.

9.5 EXCHANGE & CURRENCY RISKS

The Fund expects to invest in securities denominated in currencies other than OMR. Though these currencies are pegged to the USD, any change to the peg or changes in exchange control regulations will have an impact on the NAV.

Mitigation: The fund will endeavor to hedge the foreign exchange risk of currencies other than OMR.

General Risk Factors:

9.6 POLITICAL & ECONOMIC RISKS

The value of Units and the income generated by the Fund may be affected by uncertainties such as political or diplomatic developments, changes in government policies, taxation and interest rates, currency repatriation and other political and economic developments in law and regulations and, in particular, the risks of expropriation, nationalization and confiscation of assets and changes in legislation relating to the level of foreign ownership.

Mitigation: Political risk in GCC is relatively low compared with other regions in the Middle East. However, it is a risk factor that cannot be eliminated completely.

9.7 LEGAL RISKS

The laws and regulations governing the Fund are subject to change. The legislation can change in countries where the Fund may invest. Such legislation may have an adverse effect on the investments held by the Fund.

9.8 TAXATION RISKS

The Fund is exempt from tax as per the prevailing regulation applicable in Oman, but may be subject to local taxation to the extent income is derived from other jurisdictions. Tax law and practice in countries in which the Fund may invest is not as clearly established as that of the Western nations. It is possible therefore that the current interpretation of the law or understanding of practice may change or, indeed, that the law may be changed with retrospective effect. Accordingly, it is possible that the Fund could become subject to taxation in the countries in which the Fund may invest that is not anticipated either at the date of this document or when investments are made, valued or disposed of.

9.9 OTHER RISKS

The foregoing list of risk factors is not comprehensive. Investment in the Fund should be regarded as long-term in nature. Prospective Unitholders should consult their own advisors before deciding to subscribe for Units

CHAPTER TEN

TAXATION

10.1 TAX POSITION OF THE FUND

As per the Royal Decree No. 28/2009 (as amended), the income of funds such as the Fund set up as joint investment accounts and registered with the CMA are exempt from income tax. The income earned by the Fund is therefore exempt from Omani taxation (but may be subject to local taxation to the extent income is derived from other jurisdictions).

10.2 UNITHOLDER TAXATION

There is no Omani tax on the receipt of dividends from the Fund, or on the proceeds received from any redemption of Units. Unitholders may be subject to taxation if they are subject to taxation in any other jurisdictions.

Investors should consult their professional advisors on the potential tax consequences of subscribing for, purchasing, holding, transferring or redeeming of Units under the laws of their country of citizenship, domicile, residence or incorporation.
